FORTY-FOURTH YEAR No. 5

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1931

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown in conjunction with the canvassing board composed of representatives of the Governor, Auditor of State, Attorney General, the state Republican and Democratic executive committees, as well as representatives of Hon. John T. Brown and Hon. William G. Fickel, canvassed the votes cast for the office of Lieutenant Governor as shown by the recertified abstracts just received from the Boards of Elections of the state. The final results of this check gave John T. Brown 916,927 votes and William G. Fickel 916,744, a plurality of 417 votes for the latter. The Constitution of the State of Ohio provides that the President of the Senate shall canvass the abstracts of voters sent for the various state offices, shall announce the result and these candidates who receive the highest number of votes shall be declared elected. This is done some time during the first week of the session and in the presence of a majority of the members of each house of the General Assembly.

Probably the most important meeting ever held by the Ohio Fair Managers, will take place in the Capital City on January 13th, 14th and 15th. Important because problems will be discussed of vital importance to every county and independent fair in the state. The meeting will be presided over by Hon. I. L. Holderman, president, also one of the best posted fair men in the country. The annual banquet will be held on Wednesday evening, January 14th, with Governor Myers, Y. Cooper, and Governor-elect George White on the program. It is expected that over 1,000 fair men, concessionaires and others affiliated with amusement enterprises will be present.

The hunting season is a thing of the past and the bunnies and foxes will give a rest until the next open season. Game laws, seasons, and the like are now under way.

Warden Preston E. Thomas of the Ohio Penitentiary is rejoicing over the fact that the new industrial building is nearing final completion. Carpenters, electricians and plumbers are busy and within a short time the shops assigned to the big three-story reinforced concrete edifice will be moving in. The building is fire proof throughout and will replace the old tumble down shops which have been in use for half a century. Prison officials have reason to feel proud of it. The present population of the big institution is a little over 4,500 and still growing.

The Eighty-ninth General Assembly is now under way and for the next several months it will be a busy body. Some very important legislation has been planned and the law makers predict a successful session and debates that will be worth while. The members of both houses will be of course participate in the inaugural ceremonies which take place Monday, January 13th. If the weather permits there will be a parade of the victors with the inauguration into office of Governor George White following shortly after. Should the weather be inclement the ceremonial will take place in the rotunda of the Capitol. The Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General and two judges of the Supreme Court will also be inducted into office.

AUTO CLAIMS H. ANKENY, WEDNESDAY

Horses Ankeny, 30, prominent Greene county farmer residing in Beaver Creek township, former member of the legislature and at one time State Dairy and Food Commissioner, was killed almost instantly Wednesday night about 8:30 when hit by an automobile on the Dayton and Xenia pike, near the Beaver Creek Reformed church, a short distance from his own home.

Mr. Ankeny had been calling on his pastor, Rev. A. D. DeHaven, who had gone to the highway to assist a truck driver, with a load of horses, that had been having trouble. The truck was off the highway along the roadway. Mr. Ankeny was at the end of the truck trying to fix the engine when an auto driven by Carroll St. John, Cass Street, Dayton, headed for Xenia, plunged into Mr. Ankeny, crushing him between the car and the truck.

His back was broken as well as both legs. He was carried into the Leaning home and Dr. A. D. DeHaven summoned but he lived but a few minutes after the accident.

Mr. Ankeny was born on the farm on which he has always lived and was the son of Samuel and Margaret (Gettard) Ankeny. He received his early education in the schools in that district and attended Miami University, where he graduated in 1872. In 1890 he was elected a member of the Ohio legislature and served two terms. Following this service he was named State Dairy and Food Commissioner in 1903. He has served as a member of the Board of Education in Beaver Creek township for many years and was always interested in school advancement, his district being one of the first in the county to take advanced steps in high school work.

Mr. Ankeny was a prominent member of the Reformed church and has served in various capacities at different times. He was a prominent Republican and active in party affairs.

On October 14, 1879, he was united in marriage to Miss Lina Gertrude Cline, one of his former pupils, who preceded him in death.

Surviving Mr. Ankeny are six children, Samuel, of Dayton; Alfred, engaged in missionary service in Japan, who visited his father here on a short furlough, returning to Japan a month ago; Dr. William M., practicing physician in Dayton; Herman K., Dayton; Elizabeth T. and Rachel H., both at home. Another daughter, Florence who later became the wife of the Rev. W. T. Mabon, died about four years ago. A brother, Albert, also living in Beaver Creek township, also survives, but two sisters preceded him in death.

Local Quintet Defeated London High.

Determined to avenge the defeat suffered during the holidays at the hands of the London team, our boys played a good defensive game and were able to out victorious 18-16. The score stood 7-7 at the half and it was necessary to be alert throughout the game to hold London to sixteen points.

This weeks scoring was as follows: Harris, 8; Waddle, 5; Harriman, 3; Peterson, 2.

In the preliminary, our girls lost by the score of 19-12 the first game this season, when they met the fast Fairmont sextette. Our girls did not play as well as usual. Perhaps they were a little confused by the three division floor which was used during the first half.

Barnhart was successful in scoring ten points while Strobridge collected two.

P. H. CRESSWELL GIVEN OATH AS U. S. MARSHAL

Paul H. Cresswell, former county auditor, was given the federal oath of office last Wednesday, in United States Court, Dayton, with Judges Benson W. Hough and Robert R. Nevin on the bench. Following the oath for Mr. Cresswell a number of deputies also were sworn in.

The induction to office was very formal as is the usual custom in the United States Courts. The oath was administered by Judge Hough.

Sixty friends from Xenia, Cedarville and Jamestown were present for the ceremonies. In addition there were many prominent attorneys from neighboring cities as well as numerous federal officials. Mr. J. H. Cresswell, father of the new marshal stood with his son in the receiving line for congratulations.

Preceding the ceremony Mr. Cresswell was guest of honor at a dinner at the Miami hotel as given by the Dayton Bar Association, attorneys being present from the different associations in this section of the state. Attorney Charles Darlington represented the Greene County Bar Association.

Mr. Cresswell was the recipient of many floral pieces from friends, federal officials, deputies, and in addition was presented a handsome gold U. S. marshal badge by his deputies. There was many a good natured laugh as guests circled the room to view the flowers when someone discovered the following: "Compliments Charles L. Darlington and Carrie L. Flatter." Some good natured jester evidently found the opportunity and added Mrs. Flatter's name to the Darlington card. The co-incidence was that Mrs. Flatter had stressed her opposition to Mr. Cresswell's appointment.

Mr. Cresswell was again the guest of honor Wednesday night at the "Iron Lantern" Xenia, when he was given a complimentary dinner, arranged by numerous friends. While the affair was informal Frank L. Smith, Xenia, presided as toastmaster and in a very fitting "Hokuseian" speech presented Mr. Cresswell a handsome travelling bag.

This affair, too, was a part of the forty-one guests at the state master's table a being a felt hat and shears on a cake stand. Mr. Cresswell won the hat from W. B. McCullister on an election contest and the hat and shears were passed that each guest present could cut his own souvenir—as a result there was little left of the brown felt when it had passed the various tables.

Mr. Cresswell entered upon his duties in Cincinnati, Friday. He will continue to make his home in Xenia.

11 a. m.—Singing by Democratic Glee Club.

11:30 a. m.—Inaugural ceremony.

11:35 a. m.—Presentation of commission to the new governor by Governor Myers Y. Cooper.

12:01 p. m.—Administration of the oath of office to the governor-elect by Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of the Ohio supreme court.

12:05 p. m.—Inaugural address by the new governor.

3 p. m.—Reception for members of the state legislature and the public in the rotunda of the state-house.

Former Governors James M. Cox, of Dayton, and Vic Donahoe, of Columbus, have been selected as members of the inaugural committee by Walter F. Heer, Columbus, general chairman of the inaugural committee of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Ralph W. Hoyer, of Columbus, will be chairman of the committee and Heer will be vice chairman.

BANKER DAUGHERTY STILL FIGHTING

It has been months since court action was first instituted against Mel Daugherty, president of the defunct Ohio State Bank in Washington, D. C., yet little progress has been made towards bringing Daugherty to time in court to face numerous indictments for alleged mismanagement of the institutions funds.

The Ohio State Banking Department has made its report of findings and it will be on these charges that Daugherty will be tried. He has been able to postpone and circumvent the usual practice in court trials, even to seek the removal of the trial judge. Thousands of depositors who have suffered through failure of the bank of course cannot hope and do not expect much from the wreckage but the public does insist on the guilty paying the penalty. Daugherty has long been regarded a political power in not only Fayette county but the state. Just how far he is able to exercise this power for his own protection we cannot say but we do know the public cannot have the confidence expected in our courts if delays continue much longer.

Had the Ohio Bank Department been more efficient months ago probably the Daugherty bank would not be in the situation it is today. All that is being done is nothing more now than locking the door after the horse was stolen. Direct criticism falls justly on O. C. Gray and the Bank Department. If politics was not allowed to have sway it must now be admitted, his examiners were irresponsible for the task of making the usual inspection. Thousands of banks are held up and robbed of great sums and we read much comment about it but the closing of a bank that has been mismanaged does a thousand times more harm to a community than the hold-up of any bank.

THE OTHER SIDE OF FARM LIFE

Up to a certain point the American farmer calls for the sympathy of his fellow citizens. Beyond that point, the sympathy in the picture is that which he has for his fellow citizens. Twice at least in the last few weeks the latter has been in evidence, bodies of farmers having driven in numerous wagon loads of food for the poor of Cleveland and of Chicago.

Between 1900 and 1920 the farmers were more prosperous than any other class of Americans; they were the ultimate target of the 1910 crusade against the so-called "high cost of living." Since 1920 things have not gone so well with them; yet it is still true that when the plants of Detroit, Toledo and Akron lay off men, the more fortunate of them go back to the farms whence they came. At least they can find a living there, which is more than they can do in the cities.

The farmer is a small capitalist who right now is not getting a proper return on his capital and labor. He continues to get a livelihood. Economic conditions may go hard with him, and industrial wage scales work oppression to him. Yet he is more nearly independent than anybody else, millionaires not excepted. Whenever he chooses, or whenever necessity impels, he can do as his grandfather did; and produce all his food and clothing from his own acres. Can you? —Times Star.

FARM ELEMENT IS NOT SATISFIED

The manner in which the Federal Farm Board is handling the wheat situation evidently is not meeting with the approval of many farmers, regardless of the fact that few farmers have wheat for sale at this time. Senator Capper recently made a suggestion to Chairman Legge of the Board that a certain amount of wheat now owned by the Board with money provided by the government, be turned over to organizations for feeding the unemployed. This brought a prompt reply from Legge in the negative, claiming it would upset the plans of the board for the future.

If the Board has a better plan it should be made public both for the benefit of wheat growers and citizens in general as the Board is operating with public funds and now holds millions of bushels of wheat that must be sold at a great loss over what the Board paid for it. Why the public should continue to dig down to aid in feeding the unemployed and at the same time have food in storage that must be sold some time at a loss, is more an economic problem the average citizen cannot fathom.

In addition how can the Board expect to force the price of wheat upward and yet have wheat in storage? Foreign countries all have large wheat crops that are yet to be marketed and this will evidently hold the price of wheat in the world market down. The public view of the situation is that President Hoover should direct the Farm Board to turn over a certain amount of the government owned wheat to those in organization work for the needy.

Comfort in Disgrace

There is Improvement

Casarino's Malaria

Sometimes, when things seem to go wrong, it is a comfort to be reminded that nothing matters very much. If the earth fell toward the sun it would melt like a flake of snow falling on a red-hot stove long before it could reach the sun.

And if, in turn, our gigantic sun, a million times as big as the earth, fell toward some of the really big stars in space, it also would melt before it could reach that sun's surface.

Professor Shapley, with his forehead high and his ears low down, the best arrangement, tells you that Harvard observatory has found and measured

"about 15,000 new galaxies, each an island universe."

An island universe contains millions of stars. One little group, called the "Large Magellanic," has 200,000 stars, very one 150 times brighter than our sun, and 2,000 stars that are 10,000

times as bright as ours.

Under such circumstances, will you please tell us what difference it makes whether Anaconda copper goes up or down?

It says in Ecclesiastes: "A fool

also is full of words: a man cannot tell what shall be."

Nevertheless, men of wisdom tell us that better conditions have started already.

Mr. Lamont, secretary of commerce, sees a distinct upturn in business, and,

also important, the conductor of one of the busiest Central Railroad of New Jersey trains says: "I know times are getting better. I can see it in the faces of passengers, business men that have traveled with me for years."

Two thousand scientists gathered at Cleveland continue their contribution

Canary birds have a peculiar malaria of their own. German scientists

Jasmonch, a drug that cures human scabies. The new remedy is a synthetic product, called by chemists "N-oxy-quinoline," which you should remember in case you want to order some.

Our problems are trifling compared with those of Great Britain. A Labor and for nine months of the fiscal year

just ended has a deficit of $908,000,000.

almonds.

Science finds in the tails of comets

"cyanogen," which has the almond smell.

Bacteriologists are told that violent typhoid fever, the toxin carrying the disease that has killed so many millions of children, has been successfully attacked by treatment with short radio waves.

These waves, with a frequency of from 80,000,000 to 55,000,000 per second, reduce the strength of the poison

by one-half. It is difficult to exaggerate the importance of this scientific announcement.

With flints, bows and arrows and high-powered rifles, men have succeeded after 25,000,000 years in conquering their huge four-footed enemies—tigers, lions and bears. They may be able now to destroy their invisible, and infinitely more deadly microscopic enemies with electric projectiles.

While deeply religious believers

melt in the snow, praying, soldiers of the Russian government tore down

a cathedral on the bank of the Dnieper river, making bonfires of sacred pictures, images and vestments of priests.

This action of Russia's government comes under the heading "worse than a crime, a blunder."

In old days, a man with $1,000,000 was a "millionaire." That modest pittance no longer means anything. A "millionaire," in the new financial language, is one who has $1,000,000 or more of yearly income.

In 1928, 511 Americans told Uncle

Sam they had incomes of $1,000,000 or more. Several have $50,000,000 a year, and at least two or three have more. They represent the beginning of our billionaire class. There are probably six, certainly four, men in the United States worth a billion.

A report of General Foods company for 1930, issued by Colby M. Chester, president, shows that its business increased many billions in 1930, thanks to aggressive advertising, plus good management. And best news of all,

no workers have been discharged and no wages reduced.

The man who advertises courageously in a time of depression may see his profits diminish temporarily, but he holds his business and the "loss in profit is not as great as it would be without the advertising.

H. H. Starnum
Well Known Farmer
Died Wednesday

Hugh Harvey Starnum, 75, a lifelong resident of this township, died at his home on the Federal pike at 2

p. m., Wednesday, of double pneumonia, following an illness of but a few days.

The deceased was born August 3,

1856, and during his life-time has been a highly respected farmer. He was married in November, 1883 to Miss Elizabeth Earl of Columbus. He was a life-long member of the First Presbyterian church.

Surviving are his widow and six children: Earl Starnum, Columbus;

Robert M. Starnum, Dayton; Herman

K. Starnum, and Herbert Starnum,

Cedarville. Mrs. W. W. Kneisley,

Fairfield and Mrs. Leroy Bates, Osborn. Besides ten grandchildren, two others survive: David E. Starnum,

Henrietta, Okla., and E. L. Starnum of this place.

The funeral service will be held from the First Presbyterian church,

Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev.

W. P. Harrison, having charge of the service. Burial at Massies Creek cemetery.

Telephone Patrons

Billed In New Way

A new plan of issuing statements

for telephone service has been adopted in Cedarville, according to H. W.

Cleaver, commercial manager for The Ohio Bell Telephone Company, Xenia.

Cedarville patrons will receive their bills monthly instead of quarterly, hereafter, the manager said. This was done in a few cases formerly, but the majority of the statements were made out quarterly. January bills, just mailed, are arranged according to the new plan. They are dated January 15 for payment and patrons who remit

before that date will be entitled to a discount of 25 cents.

"Many of our customers prefer to know each month exactly what charges have been made against their accounts," said Mr. Cleaver.

"For this reason, we have adopted the plan of sending bills monthly.

The statements will be received about the sixth of each month and a discount will be allowed if they are paid before the 15th.

"The January statement, just mailed, includes October, November and December long distance charges and the exchange service for the month of January.

"Future monthly statements will show the long distance charges in advance for the one month period preceding the date of the bill and the exchange service charges for the current month in advance."

Quick Relief for

Coughing Spells

Famous Prescription Stops

Them Almost Instantly

The amazing success of this prescription called Thoxine is due to its quick double action; it immediately soothes the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by ordinary medicines. The very first swallow usually stops even the most obstinate cough.

Thoxine is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Your money will be refunded if it does not give better and quicker relief for coughs or sore-throat than anything you have ever tried. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c, and $1.00 bottles. Sold by

Richard's Drug Store and all other good drug stores.

Fruit in Storage

Is Not Yet Safe

Diseases Appear On Apple In

Spite of All the Cares

of the Summer

After spraying his fruit trees four or five times during the growing season and harvesting his apples, the fruit grower's quarrel with nature is not yet over. Several more unsuspected troubles may appear on apples in storage, according to A. L. Pier-storff, extension plant pathologist for the Ohio State University.

Bitter-pit, or Baldwin spot, is a disease which is not caused by bacteria

or fungi but is due to a physiological change in the tissue of the apple. It is most common on the Baldwin variety,

but other varieties may be affected.

A similar trouble often appears on the Jonathan apple and is called, therefore,

Jonathan spot. This second spot disease may sometimes be found on the Stayman variety.

Another disease which appears in storage, but which is present at harvest time, is water-core, a trouble which is most prevalent following a summer of brilliant sunlight and abundant moisture. Apples only slightly affected with water-core recover under proper storage conditions. Apples which have a glossy, water-soaked appearance and are hard to cut are

"water-soaked."

The other storage diseases similar in appearance are caused by dry weather during the growing season.

They are drought-spot and cork. Pier-storff describes the disease as large, scurry, irregular spots, either close to the surface or deep in the flesh of the apple, which are bitter to the taste.

BIBLE CLASS HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

The Mispah Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church, held their monthly meeting with Mrs. Dea Hill, Tuesday afternoon.

Following a devotional period, the topic for discussion "The Mosaic of the Cigarette" was viewed from several angles.

Mrs. Walter Harrison read an article discussing the cigarette from the health standpoint, followed by Mrs. F. A. Jurkat who read an essay on the expense side of the problem.

The question, "Is Smoking Equally Sinful for Both Sexes?" was ably discussed by Mrs. S. G. Wright. Several suggestions were then made as to how this growing evil might be checked.

Following the business meeting during which it was disclosed that sixteen members were perfect in attendance the preceding month, Miss Jennie Bratton gave a reading entitled "The Stolen Ham", which was much enjoyed by all present, as were the excellent refreshments served by the hostesses.

MANY THANKS, JOHN

The following complimentary is taken from the daily news review in the Springfield Sun, by John W. Fisher, head of the News-League, Columbus:

"One of the most interesting frequent callers at the state capital is Earl Bull, publisher of the Cedarville Herald, and president of the Ohio Newspaper Association. He probably knows more about the real inside of Ohio government than the usual run of men who have always resided in small communities."

"Bull is one of the oft-spoken individuals in the newspaper business in Ohio. He has seen his community grow from a hamlet to a thriving village, with solid business institutions, public improvements and city conveniences."

"He is the publisher of 'The Buckeye,' official paper of the Ohio Newspaper Association, and exhibits an unusual pride in the preparation of material for its limited number of tabloid columns. He is always a welcome visitor."

C. H. S. Meets Bowersville
Bowersville will bring three teams to play basketball in the local gymnasium this Friday. According to reports Bowersville teams will be strong contenders for honor places among the Greene County teams this season.

This tilt will no doubt be one of the interesting games of the year. Why not plan to be there?

Don't forget our teams go to Jamestown, Tuesday, January 13th.

The chapel exercises for the grades last week were in charge of the third grade. Under the direction of their teacher, Miss Mildred Trumbo, they had prepared an interesting program which was given on New Year's Day at one o'clock.

The Scripture lesson was given by Robert Hart, Junior Boase, Roger Tullis, Ralph Denney, Russell Plenkhar, Kenneth Hart, Mary Ross, Margorie Vest, Harold Hart, and Joseph Baker. Each of these children repeated one of the Beatitudes, thus giving the Scripture lesson. The Lord's Prayer was then repeated by the entire school, after which a response was given by Betty Truesdale.

The next number was a story, "The Fairy's New Year Gift," by Frances Patton. This was followed by a song, "New Year Bells," which was sung by Helen Robinson, Christene Willis, Elinor Williams, Robert Johnson, Wendell Willis, and Robert Dueron. A recitation entitled, "Where Do Old Year Go?" was given by Betty Truesdale, after which Dorothy Jane Rickenbach played a piano solo.

A play called, "Father Time's Workshop" was next presented. The prologue to the play was given by Frances Patton, after which the curtain was drawn back to reveal the clocks in the workshop. Various kinds of clocks had been made from cardboard and these were worn as masks by a number of boys, the boy's face appearing in the center of the face of each clock. The boys representing clocks were John Nelson, Ford Cooper, Harold Wilson, Eugene Rader, William Ferguson, James Whittington, James Barber, Paul Dobbins, and Edward Irvine. John McMillan took the part of Father Time and each clock told him what its work would be on the earth below when it left his workshop. They also sang, "The Clock Song" to him. Then as Father Time and his clocks left the stage, the entire grade sang, "Good-Bye to the Old Year."

The New Year, who was Emma

Kennan, who sang it with her teacher, children, and adult representing a mother. The New Year was a girl who sang of welcome to all and then each of the others gave a short rhyme about the work of that month. Those representing the months were Wayne Felt, Nancy Williamson, Richard Robertson, Betty Jones, Frances DeHaven, Dorothy Cooper, Kenneth Hart, Ivan Jamieson, Charles Allen, Dorothy Jane Rickenbach, Arthur Jamieson, and Eleanor Luttrell.

A New Year song was then sung by the entire grade. At the close of this song, Helen Robinson appeared on the stage, wheeling a baby buggy in which a doll represented a little New Year, and on the side of the buggy was a placard on which were the words, "Happy New Year to All."
